Here is what Major Gen. John F.
O'Ryan has to say about the recruiting agency of The Evening World:

"Such regiments as the Twelfth and Sixty-ninth represent in a peculiarly notable manner the great mass of citizens of the great mass of citizens of the great city of New York. The, are the people's regiments, from top to bottom. You will meet their members everywhere engaged in the multifarlous activities of the metropolis. You will find Twelfth men and Sixty-ninth men running trains in the subway and on the "Loon on the surface lines and on ferry on the surface lines and on ferry the fine class of regiment is made especially to young men of neighboring towns. "Many of these men early in life have taken upon themselves the laudable duty of caring for others. When the call came last year for troops to be rushed to the Mexican border these patriotic New Yorkers, along with thousands of other men in other commands, dropped everything to answer the country's call. We had to face many sad cases of families without the usual provider, and at length the Government was forced to step in, discharging some men and giving dependency allowances to others.
